Motorcycle Future Market Overview

Brexit is done and Coronavirus arrives. Problems due to the pandemic is hitting production of motorcycles and parts supply issues throughout the world. The latest MCIA new registration figures for February has a 3% rise for the month when compared to 2019 and for the first two months a 2.9% rise year-on-year. Concerns around coronavirus will most likely impact on sales in the short term, but the depth of that impact will of course be dependent on the length of the current health situation. If the lockdown continues for a significant length of time there is a possibility that the bulk of the selling season could be over and riders with less money are less likely to buy even after the lockdown has finished. This could then start to impact on stock availability in the future if the numbers are significant, but the positive in that scenario would be a possible short term lowering of available stock and the possibility of an increase in values. In this edition there have been no changes other than seasonal adjustments and minor database maintenance.
